Category	Exemplary (5)	Proficient (4)	Basic (3)	Unsatisfactory (2–0)	Score
Lesson Plan Objectives (same as lesson plan)	Objectives are clear and concise, pertinent to the lesson, and written in an assessable manner.	Objectives are pertinent to the lesson and written in an assessable manner.	Objectives are too broad and would be difficult to assess.	Objectives are not focused, written in a non-assessable manner and/or do not provide direction to the unit.
Assessment Tool Addresses Objectives	All objectives are clearly addressed in the assessment tool.	All objectives are addressed, but some are indirectly or not clearly addressed.	Only a portion of the objectives are included in the assessment tool.	Assessment tool does not relate to the lesson plan objectives.
Exam or Quiz (use only if assessment is a quiz or exam)	Questions are clear, relate to lesson objectives, and include answers that can be easily and correctly scored.	Questions are clear but not all relate to lesson objectives; questions can be easily scored.	Questions are somewhat ambiguous and do not necessarily relate to the lesson.	Questions are poorly written, difficult to score, and do not address lesson objectives.
Directions for Paper, Project, or Other (use if assessment is not a quiz or exam)	Directions clearly explain how to complete the assignment and how it addresses lesson objectives.	Directions explain what is required but do not clearly connect to lesson objectives.	Directions are minimal and lack guidance on addressing lesson objectives.	Directions are poorly written and do not guide students in completing the project.
Means by Which Learning Will Be Assessed	All answers are included and clear, or a detailed grading rubric is provided.	Answers or rubric included but lack clarity.	Not all answers are provided; rubric is vague.	Answers or rubric are not included.
